Brookline Bank Unveils Redesigned Medford Square Branch, Demonstrating Continued Investment in Community.

MEDFORD, MA - Brookline Bank officially opened its completely redesigned Medford Square branch located at 60 High Street, with a reception last Wednesday evening.

One of three Brookline Bank branches in Medford, the newly redesigned branch features a restored and updated exterior and completely renovated banking hall appointed with private offices for customers to meet with their Brookline bankers. To ready the branch for the aesthetic improvements, significant structural and utility upgrades were performed throughout the winter and spring.

Medford Mayor, Michael J. McGlynn congratulated Brookline Bank on the beauty and vibrancy of the new branch. He also praised the bank's overall investment in the city stating, "Brookline Bank is one of the first to step up to aid our youth, seniors and other important areas to help fill the void that the current economy has left."

"I've always enjoyed this building and appreciated what our predecessors had in mind when they designed and built it." said Paul Perrault, CEO of Brookline Bank. "We're very pleased to have been able to make the investment to bring back the glory of this building for Medford Square, for our customers and for our employees."
